Welcome

The world watched while the Notre Dame cathedral burned. But as the dark orange flames rose high overhead, the chaplain of the Paris fire service, Jean-Marc Fournier, entered the cathedral at the risk of his life to save “priceless artifacts” including what the cathedral calls its “most precious relic” –the Crown of Thorns (some believe was the very one placed on the head of Christ). This noteworthy story however pales in comparison to the story that we reflect on this weekend. One from eternity past, who entered a burning planet, who saved what heaven considers its most priceless artifact – you. He, the One who came, lost His life in the rescue... but that's only half the story. This week we find out we are living in the 2nd half of that drama. Welcome to Campion.

The McRoberts family would like to thank the Campion church for its support, care and effort for the memorial service of David last Sunday. Ann and the family were deeply moved by your love. Some of the attending friends and family had never been in an Adventist church and were very touched by what you did for our family. You truly demonstrated that you are all about people! May the Lord bless and reward each of you for your help and sacrifice.
